ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I appreciate and thank God Almighty for His divine wisdom, knowledge and indeed everything He has bestowed upon my life and for the completion of this academic programme.

I express my profound thanks and appreciation to my Supervisor, Dr. Ojo of the Department of Business Administration, Mountain Top University, Ogun State for his immense and tireless supervisory guidance while this research work was in progress. His magnanimity in devoting his time for prompt corrections and his intellectual leadership made available to me are most gratefully acknowledged. I pray that God will bless and reward you and your family abundantly more than you have ever expected or imagined in all ramifications.

I am in short of words in expressing my unreserved gratitude to the current Head of Department of Public Administration, Prof. Jackson for his tireless counseling, and fatherly encouragement to me throughout the duration of the programme.

I am also indebted to the following lecturers: Mr. Alexander Attah Enebi, Dr. Aikhoje Alexander and other staff (both academic and non-academic) for their wonderful contributions in imparting academic knowledge to me which was a catalyst in helping me to write this Project work.

I am also indebted to Miss. Korede Aluko for her labor of love towards enhancing the completion of this project.

Finally, I am deeply grateful to my wonderful parents Mr. and Mrs. Chukwuma for their spiritual and financial support throughout the startup of this work up until now, other family members and also to all well-wishers, friends and colleagues I say a very big thank you to you all.

ABSTRACT

All over the world, no country has fully dusted itself off from the stains of corruption. This study therefore aimed at finding out the perception of the Youths in Nigeria's higher institution on Government Anticorruption Effort. This study aimed extensively on how anticorruption efforts began in Nigeria, with a little background on the origin of corruption. This study also aimed at analyzing the antigraft agencies (ICPC and the EFCC), as well as an analysis of policy formulation and policy implementation in Nigeria. For the purpose of this study, descriptive survey design was adopted with the use of questionnaire as data collection tool. Findings from this research work revealed that there is a significant relationship between the perception of the youths in higher institutions and the government anticorruption effort. Thus, this study recommended that current Leaders should imitate and imbibe good legacies of past leaders like Chief Obafemi Awolowo, Gani Fawehnmimi, etc. so as to make Nigeria indeed the giant of Africa.
